No Hopes of the Passage of the Silver Bill by Congress the Present Session.

Probable Passage of a Bill to $500,000 is refused?" Build a Navy-Other Matters.

THE NAVY.

The Proposition to Build One Likely to Become a Law.

Special to the Sentinel.

Washington, Feb. 19 .- It is very probable that Mr. Randall's proposition to build a pavy will become a law. Then a board will be appointed by President Cleveland and the work will be well under way within the time of the next Congress. It is not thought probable that the construction of ships other than for models will be begun under two years. In fact, it is calculated that it will take that length of time to ascertain first what is wanted.

The cost of the new navy is neither known, guessed at nor contemplated in any way. Wise figurers begin at $40,000,000 and end at $70,000,000. It is presumed that between those limits the amount will finally rest. It is believed that it will be years before the work will be completed. Then we will have a navy as good as France, Russia, Turkey and some as Germany or England, yet the plant will an American game. be good enough to enable the United States to make ready for a successful battle with either of those countries in a very short

Little is said about where the work is to be done. As this board, provided for by Mr. Randall, has full power and discretion, the officers in charge of the Government's Navy Yards may be bidders and the Government may do the work herself. In that event the Government's works will be reconstructed and enlarged. That is the most popular idea of it all.' too. It will never do to permit foreign shipbuilders to enter into competition with those of this country. The work can not go abroad. Those who oppose this idea -and they largely predominate-say there would be blood riots and any amount of bloodshed should a panic grow out of these hard times, and argue that one of the best solutions of relief is found in distributing some of the Government's surplus in needed improvements, and having all the work done at home from domestic materials.

Not a whisper of opposition has so far been raised in a responsible quarter to a new navy. All contention hangs upon the feasibility of plans for procuring it, and there is always some who will object to everything. No Hopes of the Passage of the Silver Bill

This Session. Special to the Sentinel.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 - There will be nothing done with the Dorsheimer or any other silver bill by this Congress," said Chairman Bland, of the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, to your correspondent this afternoon, "Nor will there be any financial legislation whatever for a year," he added.

"Does not the impress of Mr. Cleveland carry a weight with it on the Dorsheimer

"Well, hardly enough to pass it at this late hour," replied Mr. Bland. "I don't balieve it would be possible to pass any bill of general importance, excepting one making appropriations, during the remainder of the session. Then Mr. Cleveland has not spoken in behalf of the Dosheimer bill. It is only presumed it is of h ideas on the subject. That is not enough have any effect. The New Orleans Exposition. Special to the Sentines.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 -A good deal of distress has been evinced during the past week by the Washington representatives of the New Orleans Exposition, and mutterings of a financial failure and a closing up by the Sheriff, and all that have been heard. It is stated at the room of the House Committee on Appropriations that the application for an additional loan of $500,000 would be refused. A member of the committee said this afternoon, however, that this statement was given out for a purpose, and that it was believed by a majerity of the committee that the loan would be approved and recommended to the House.

"In that event I think it will be adopted." said he. "A strong case is made. It bears the approval of the President and his Cabinet, and after this excitement and talk dies down-say two or three days before the close of Congress-the bill will doubtgo through, The ment, you see, indorsed the exposition at the outset by authorizing the appointment of Commissioners, receipt of exhibits duty free, granting a million-dollar loan, and all that sort of thing, and now if it fails it will be looked upon as the failure of the Government, just as the President says."

"Do you think it would fall if the loan of

"Yes, I do-that is, it would fizzle out within a month, and we would get no credit for the effort to make it a success. The fact is, unless we expect to make these expositions the offspring of the Government and stand good for the expense of them we must not give them the Government's creden-

Decendants of Washington to be Invited to the Dedication of the Monument-Investigation of the Pension Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 19 .- The Monument Commission has arranged to invite all the kith and kin of the Father of his Country to assemble in the room of the Senate Library Committee next Saturday that they may proceed in a body to the House, and there take the seats assigned them. There are thirteen descendents bearing the original family name of Washington. They will occupy seats on the floor, the number corresponding with that of the original colonies. The Warner Committee to day continued its investigation of the Pension office. Representative Hart, of Obio, was present as examiner on the part of the minority. S. F. Sawyer, Chief Inspector of the agents' division, repeated his opinion that the amount of work performed since 150 members were added to the force was proportionately smaller than before. He was unable to give any specific facts to warrant such an opinion. When the 150 mea had been added and the increase was found to be only per cent, he found a reason for his conclusions that the new men were mill stones around the necks of the old service. He does not believe, as a general thing that 2,450 men could do more work than 1,950, but he recalled an instance where the force of offices was doubled, and for several months thereafter the average monthly results showed a falling off. The old men were engaged in teaching the new-

Much stress was laid upon this point, and the records were examined narrowly, showing be youd a doubt that Rathbone received pay for the time he was absent during Octoberin fact, for the whole month. Witness swore the pay-rolls for that month had been approved by the Commissioner acting a Commissioner of Pensions, and was now in the Treasury. Upon cross-examination Mr. Hart developed the fact that Rathbone was entitled to thirty days and pay; that he actually had been absent a year and forty six days, of which only twenty-nine were

One of the Finest Business Blocks of Chicago Burned-Other Fires.

PHILADELPHIA

Visited by a Destructive Fire on Chestnut Street.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19, 10 a. m .- A destructive fire is now burning fiercely on Chestnut street, between Second and Front streets. The locality is devoted entirely to large warehouses and business houses. The fire originated in an unknown manner in the fifth story of the brick structure No. 125 Chestnut street, occupied by Stephenson & Co., Gars & Stratton, Richard A. and wool. After the fire was discovered and of the upper stories fell out and crashed down into the street. The loud noise thus made caused the rumor that an explosion building. When the wall fell a laborer, John Mc-Kay, was engaged in removing a safe from the adjoining building. He was buried under the falling bricks and instantly killed. A horse attached to a hose cart, standing in front of the building, was also killed.

The flames spread rapidly to the buildings on the east, and numbers 121 and 123 Chestnut street were enveloped. The former building was occupied by T. C. Beatty & Co., | surance, unknown. dealers in worsted varns; the latter by George H McFadden & Co., cotton dealers So far as known two men were killed at the scene of the fire-John McKay or Mc-Cormick, driver of hose cart, and J. P. Blyer aged eighteen years.

Losses are very heavy. A rough estimate is that they will not be less than $2,000,000. Nine large business houses are almost completely burned out and six others damaged. Four others incurred losses which many thousands of dollars will not repair. The burned buildings are as follows: Stephenson & Co., Torrence C. Beatty & Co. E. Lehlbach & Co., Thielens & Co., the Camden Woolen Works, and G. H. McFadden & Co. This includes the buildings on the north side of Chestnut street between Second and Lititia, excepting the Corn Exchange Na tional Bank, which at this honr is not injured except in the rear, but as the fire is still burning it is in great danger.

The fire spread from the rear of this building to the right and left, and two buildings on Second street were badly affected. M. Homer & Son's building, 47 South Second street, was totally destroyed, and Pitkin Thomas, 47 South Second, damaged.

The first building to take fire on Letitia street was H. H. N. Bennett & Co.'s, No. 82, $50,000; partly insured. The flames spread to Reddille & Weiss, No. 30; Joseph W. Sculls, No. 28, and an empty warehouse, No. 26. The corner building then became ignited, completing the square.

AT CHICAGO.

Destruction of One of the Finest Office Blocks to the City.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 -A fire is now raging with great fury in Granni's block, east side of Dearborn street, just south of Washington. The fire started at 5:45 this afternoon, and half an hour later it was found necessary to turn in a general alarm. Twelve engines and a stand-pipe are now playing on the flames, and an immense crowd of several thousand people is watching the apparent destruction of one of the finest of fice blocks in the city. It is impos sible now to estimate the loss. At the time the fire broke out the employes in the offices of the building were preparing to leave for the night, and as far as learned, all escaped safely. The fire is said to have originated at the bottom of the elevator sheft, where the past week there has been a new boiler put in and other improvements made. The latest reports says the flames are not yet out and already the loss by fire and water is very considerable.

One hour from the discovery of the fire, it was plain the whole block must go. The flames then burst through the roof, and brilliantly illuminated the scene for blocks around. Twenty engines were now pouring enormous volumes of water into the burning building, yet the flames seemed to defy all attempfs to suppress them. At 8:15 the roof fell in, sending a shower of sparks up, and a rumor that the walls were on the point of falling scattered the crowd in all directions. The material of the roof could now be seen burn. ing on the fifth floor, and the flames poured out of every window in front and above the second story, and it was feared to be impos sible to save the Portland Block, on the corner of Washington and Dearborn streets. On account of the intense cold, it was difficult to employ the engines to the best advantage. Occasionally a pipe would burst, and it would be several minutes before the water could be brought again to play where did good service in drenching the adjoining walls where there was danger of the fire catching. In Grannis Block are two banks. They are the Continental National and the the National Bank of Illinois. The suddenness of the fire came near resulting disastrously to the valuable books and papers of both banks. It was rumored that the vaults The defense asked that a subpens be issued for Colonel Henry C. Corbin, now in Chicago, and upon their statement they expect to establish some material facts by this all fire-proof, and the only inconvenience would be the delay while waiting for the safes to become sufficiently cooled off to make access to them possible. Before o'clock everybody about the neighborhood of the fire having offices in the building, or being employed there, had no doubt of the total loss of building and contents, except the valuables in the fire-proof safes. The building is for the most part occupied by lawyers, architects and insurance agencies, many of whom will lose everything contained in the offices. It is now known that the Union National Bank, of this city, at a east of $175 000. The building was insured for $120,000. Its location was most desirable for office purposes, and the building being arranged according to the most approved plans as to convenience, its tenants were for the most part prominent in their professions, having offices expressly fitted up, which fact makes the estimates of furniture, etc., amount well up to $75,000. The fire was practically under control at 9 o'clock, and fears as to the safety of adjoining blocks were no longer entertained.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT

On the Virginia Midland Railrord-Several Persons Reported to Have Been Burned to Death.

Washington, Feb. 19 .- News of a serious collision on the Varginia Midland Railroad have just reached this city. It is reported the north bound mail, due here at 10:25 p. 1 m., ran into a freight train about four miles above Alexandria, and several persons were killed. The cars of the passenger train caught fire after the collision, and are still burning. A wrecking train has just been dispatched to the scene of the accident.

The wrecking train has not yet returned from the scene of the accident on the Richmond, Fredericksbury and Potomac Railroad between this city and Alexandria, and the details which can be obtained are meager. The collision occurred in or near Sport Tunnel, at Four-Mile-Run, the colliding trains being the New Orleans Mail, over the Virginia Midland, which should have reached Washington at 11 p. m., and a freight train going south. Both trains were badly wrecked, and the shattered cars took fire, the flames being fed by petroleum from two oil cars in the freight train.

Thirty-three cars were burned, including the baggage and mail cars, with their contents. Andrew Augur, conductor of the freight train, was killed, and several trainmen are missing. Seven or eight persons were injured, some of them seriously. The wounded were taken to a farm-house in the vicinity.

Representative O'Shea, Democrat, of Cook, said he wished to explain his vote, coming from a constituency largely interested in iron manufacture. His constituents felt that Mr. Morrison's policy was detrimental to their interests, and he must vote for J. R Hoxie, while he personally felt very kindly toward Mr. Morrison. Representative Sellig, of Cook, in recording his vote, said he could not vote for John A. Logan under existing circumstances, and in a lengthy speech explained his position. He voted for Andrew Shuman.

Engineer, telegraph and commissary corps for the Suakim expedition sailed for Suakim

It is announced that in view of the fall of Khartoum and death of General Gordon, which have rendered the main object of General Wolseley's expedition impossible, the Government have deemed it expedient to change the whole plan of the campaign in the Soudan. General Brackenbury, who succeeded the late General Earle, has been ordered to abandon his advances on Berber and concentrate his troops at Korti. Colonel Sir Redvere Buller, who evacuated Gubat on the 13th, and withdre " his forces to Abu Kles, has also been order ed to fall back on Korti. All available troo s in Wolseley's command will be concentrated

It is probable that General Lord Wolseley may avacuate Korti and return to Dabbeh where the desert routes from Omdurman, El Obeide and Briour converge on the Nile. General Wolseley will there await help from England.

General Woiseley telegraphed to-night that the condition of General Sir Herbert Stewart is less hopeful. The fever attending the wound in his groin has increased.

BRITISH TROOPS

Arriving at Gakdul Wells-General Buller's Retreat-General Brackenbury's Movements.

London, Feb. 19 .- Advices from Gakdul Wells of the 17th report the arival of General

Wood and three companies of infantry. Reports from Abu Klaa, dated the 13th, state that General Buller, after rendering their machinery, started across the desert, and arrived at Abu-Klea without firing a shot. The reason for the abandonment of Gubat was an advance made by El Mahdi with 9,000 men from Omdurman, and a retreat was ordered when the main body of Arabs was twenty miles off. but an advance gnard of 3,000 men, with five cannon, was within seven miles of the British lines. General Buller had less than 2,000 men all told. The British will retire to Gakdul Wells, and may possibly continue the retreat to Korti, in order to concentrate the force there under the command of General Wolseley for a fresh advance. It is said the Mahdi is traveling in state, with 40,000 to 60,000 followers, toward Metenineh. On the 14th instant the Mahdi with his army was twenty miles from Gubat, and was marching slowly. General Brackenbury, commanding the troops under the late General Earle, has telegraphed from Ussi Island that the cavalry corps entered Salamet on the 15th inst., finding it deserted. The cavalry were then about five miles in advance of the infantry. The horses and camels had got safely through Shukook Pass, which had been prepared for defense, but was also abandoned by the enemy. General Brackenbury hopes to reach Abu Hamed by the 25th inst., but doubts if he can concentrate there before the 29th, owing to the necessity he will be under of crossing the mounted troops to the other side of the river. Any estimate of the time necessary to do this, General Brackenbury says, must be very uncertain because of the difficulties presented by the Nile at its pres-
